This Week's Games:
The Truman women's basketball team is off to a hot start, winning its first three games of the 2005-06 season by an average of 35 points a game. It is the first time since 1999-00 that the team has won their first three games of the year.

While the schedule has been soft for the team during the first week, the Bulldogs appear to be much improved on the offensive end. Truman is averaging 81 points a game and is shooting 48.7% from the field and 39.0% from three-point range. Last year, the Bulldogs only averaged 61 points and shot 37.8% from the field and 32.1% from beyond the arc.

The team will get their first real challenge of the season on Nov. 30 with a road contest at Quincy. Last year, the Lady Hawks were a Sweet 16 team in the NCAA Tournament, and this season they are already 3-0 on the year.

Sandwiched around that game is two home contests. This Tuesday, Truman hosts Central Methodist and on Dec. 3, the team takes on Illinois-Springfield.

A Recap Of Last Week:
Truman 81, Stephens 52

Truman won its ninth straight home opener last Tuesday evening. The Bulldogs opened their season by recording a dominating 81-52 win over an overmatched Stephens squad.

Truman did not allow a point until over nine minutes had ticked off the clock. By that time, the Bulldogs had built a 17-point advantage. Truman would go on to lead by a 44-15 margin at halftime and never let the lead get under 24 in the final 20 minutes.

The Bulldogs showed great improvement in their shooting ability over a year ago. Truman shot 54.5% in the first-half and ended the game with a 50.0% from the field. Made 13 three-pointers in the game, two off of the school record, and made 43.3% of its shots from beyond the arc.

Defensively, the team forced 26 turnovers and held Stephens well under 40% shooting for the night, including a 19% mark in the first-half.

Candace McGee led Truman with a team-high 20 points after she hit seven-of-11 from the field with six three-pointers. Newcomer Laura Cooper had a big debut, hitting four first-half three-pointers and finishing with 17 points. In the post, Georgia Mueller and Natalie Schupbach each had double-figure scoring as well with 11 and 10, respectively. Schupbach and Lucie Lueken each pulled in a team-high seven rebounds and McGee also led the team with five assists.

Truman 85, Harris-Stowe 36
For the first time since the 1999-2000 season, the Truman women’s basketball team is 2-0. The Bulldogs had little trouble with a short-handed Harris-Stowe squad in an 85-36 home win on Thursday night in Pershing Arena. Four Bulldogs scored in double-figures, led by 19 points from Candace McGee.

The Hornet only dressed five players and the fatigue factor set in rather quickly. The Bulldogs raced out to a 15 point lead in the first five and a half minutes of action, with eight points coming from McGee.

Truman took a 53-26 lead into the halftime break and then expanded their margin to 49 points by the end of the game. The 49 points is the 10th largest margin of victory in school history. It displaced a 48-point win over McKendree College back in 1987. Harris-Stowe was a victim of an 87-point loss to Truman back in 1997 which is the second largest margin. A 93-point win over Lindenwood set in 1976 is the current school record.

Freshman Georgia Mueller and sophomore Katie Fowler each had 12 points, while Natalie Schupbach chipped in 10 with a team-high nine rebounds. McGee was 5-of-10 from outside as Truman hit eight threes in the first half. For the game, Truman shot 48% from the field.

Harris-Stowe was paced by Kanisha Pettis, who scored 19 points on 7-of-26 from the field. Tiffany King pulled down 10 rebounds for the Hornets.

Truman 77, Lincoln 50
Truman women’s basketball improved to 3-0 on the season with a 77-50 victory over Lincoln (Mo.) on Saturday afternoon in Pershing Arena. Four Bulldogs scored in double figures, led by sophomore guard Katie Fowler’s 17 points.

Truman started out slowly, but exploded in the last five minutes of the first half to head into the locker room with a 40-15 halftime lead. The ‘Dogs shot 48% from the field (26-of-54) and 33% from beyond the arc (8-of-23). Truman also was perfect from the foul line, making all 17 attempts taken on the afternoon.

In addition to her 17 points, Fowler also finished with six assists and five rebounds. Freshman forward Georgia Mueller finished with 14 points and 12 rebounds, recording the first double-double of her collegiate career. Junior forward Natalie Schupbach was also in double figures with 14 points and sophomore guard Candace McGee tallied 10 points of her own.

Keyaira Stepps led Lincoln (0-2) with 19 points, shooting 5-of-16 from the field.

Truman Coaching Staff:
John Sloop is in his sixth season as the Truman women's basketball head coach. He has a career coaching record of 54-43, including a 33-14 record against non-conference opponents.

Sloop has led the Bulldogs to two MIAA tournament appearances. Among his victories were upset over nationally-ranked teams Washburn, in 2002-03, and Quincy, in 2004-05.

Prior to coming to Truman, Sloop was an assistant coach for the Truman men's team for five years. He also helped coached Division I teams at Missouri State and Saint Louis.

Sloop is 1-0 all-time against Central Methodist, 3-2 against Quincy and has never faced off against Illinois-Springfield.

Assistant coach of the Bulldogs is Manne Fauser. The former Bulldog player is also in her sixth season of coaching at the school.

Truman Perfect From The Line:
The Bulldogs were a perfect 17-of-17 from the free throw line on Saturday against Lincoln, setting a new school record for single-game free throw percentage.

Truman’s previous best at the charity stripe had been connecting on all nine free throw attempts in a 2000 game against Pittsburg State.

Georgia Mueller, Natalie Schupbach and Jennifer Franklin were four-of-four from the line in that game and Katie Fowler was five-of-five.

Bulldogs’ Hot Shooting:
After week one of the 2005-06 season, the Bulldogs are shooting 48.7% from the field and has shot 48% or better in all three games.

Last season, Truman only had one game in which it shoot better than 48%. In fact, just twice did the team ever shot over 44.5% in a contest.

The Bulldogs have been especially impressive shooting in the first-half, when they are averaging 45.7% points a game. Truman has made 54-of-102 field goal attempts in the first-half, a percentage of .529.

Every Truman starter is shooting 50% or better for the field for the year. Leading the way is Georgia Mueller who has made 64% of her field goal attempts.

Beyond The Arc:
Truman’s hot shooting extends to the three-point range. The Bulldogs are averaging nearly 11 three-pointers a game and are shooting 39% from that distance.

The Bulldogs hit a season-high 13 three-pointers against Stephens, just two shy of the school record which was set in 2002 against Westminster.

Candace McGee has led the team in this area, making 13-of-27 of her three-point attempts. In the season opener, she hit six three-pointers, the most by a Bulldog since Wendi Sobaski hit the same number against Missouri-Rolla back in 1999.

Dishing Out Assists:
A-by-product of Truman’s hot shooting is that the team’s assist numbers are also up. The team is averaging 23.3 assists a game. In comparison, last year’s squad averaged just 12.5 assists a game.

The Bulldogs have an assist-to-turnover ratio of 1.46. Last season, that number was 0.62.

Point guard Katie Fowler leads the way by averaging 6.0 assists a game. She just missed double-figures in that category with nine in the Harris-Stowe contest. That is also another statistics that has not been matched by a Truman player since 1999.

Fowler has an assist-to-turnover ratio of 2.25. Truman’s lone senior, Ali Long, has a mark of 3.00 in that category. She is averaging four assists a game and has turned the ball over just four times on the year.
