The 1997 squad was the first team in school history to qualify for the NCAA Tournament, after a couple of near misses.

The first round gave the Bulldogs a chance again to avenge a 2-1 defeat at the hands of St. Joseph's College which won the No. 1 seed in the Central region after beating the 'Dogs 2-1 earlier in the season.

The weather provided an extra opponent for each team as the match started in late due to wind and snow. The teams struggled for nearly the entire contest with Truman holding a slight statistical edge with eight shots at halftime to St. Joseph's four. Late in the second half the Tozcykowski sisters, Carrie and Stephanie, broke through with the only goal of the match. Carrie, the senior, passed to sophomore Stephanie who found the back of the net with a breakaway goal in the 85th minute.

Less than ideal conditions again plagued the 'Dogs in the quarterfinals. This time, it was rain and mud at West Virginia Wesleyan. The pitch, a veritable swamp in the middle, forced the teams to play wide and slowed action. Truman mustered only one shot in the first half, but won four corner kicks to Wesleyan's one. The defense was coming up huge in the match, holding Wesleyan scoring juggernaut Jill Hanrath in check for the half.

With 45 minutes to go in regulation and 500 spectators looking on, Wesleyan's offense heated up. A corner shot at 79:10 slipped past Truman keeper Jenny Miller. The 'Dogs went into overdrive the last 10 minutes and threatened in the 85th minute, but couldn't send one home.

In 2002, UNC was again to be Truman's first postsea- son hurdle. And again the Bulldogs dispensed of the Bears, 1-0.

The 'Dogs took two shots on goal in the first half to the Bears' four, and Truman goalie Lisa Schmalz made four of her five saves in that period. Schmalz claimed her 11th shutout of the year in all 90 minutes of work.

Truman scored when junior Angie Schuller sent the ball down the right side to senior forward Becky Ojile who got it up to sophomore forward Ellen Wright for the header.

The No. 3 seed, Truman would now face the top seed in the Central region and third-ranked team in the nation, Nebraska-Omaha. UNO dominated both offensively and defensively in its 5-0 victory, allowing the Bulldogs nine shots for the game, and just one on goal. The Mavericks went on to fall just one game short of national title.

The 2001 Bulldogs returned to the postseason in 2001, and earned a pair of home games after finishing the regular season as the No. 1 seed in the Central region. Truman began its second postseason run with a rematch with Northern Colorado, a team that handed the 'Dogs their first loss (1-0) of the '01 campaign in game five that year.

However, the home pitch proved more successful for the Bulldogs who sent UNO heading west with a 1-0 defeat. True freshman Anna Sonderman performed the heroics in the 59th minute with help from senior Kelli Fries.

Northern Kentucky ended Truman's 14-3-1 campaign in the quarterfinal game as Sonderman added the insurance goal in the 60th minute, while Anna Sonderman added the insurance goal in the 41st minute. The stingy Truman defense held Northern Colorado to three shots on goal as junior goalkeeper Emily Huyck recorded her 14th shutout of the year.

Unfortunately, the Bulldogs were not as lucky in the national championship game as Northern Kentucky ended their season by a 2-0 score with both goals coming early in the game. The Truman defense clamped down in the second half, allowing just one shot on goal, while the 'Dogs' offense forced the NKU keeper to make six of her eight saves.

The 2004 Bulldogs returned to the postseason in 2004, and earned a pair of home games after finishing the regular season as the No. 3 seed in the Central region and third-ranked team in the nation, Nebraska-Omaha.

For the third consecutive year, the Bulldogs returned to the NCAA Division II Central regional tournament at the Truman Soccer Park.

In the opening game of the tournament, the Bulldogs wasted little time in getting on the board. Sara Murray scored just 0:59 seconds into the game against South Dakota.

The Coyotes even the score at the 22 minute mark only to watch the Bulldog tack on two more goals before half for a 1-1 lead. Stephanie Cepicky had the game winner at the 29 minute mark, while Anna Sonderman added the insurance goal in the 41st minute.

The Bulldogs advanced to play Nebraska-Omaha for the regional championship game. It marked the third straight time the two teams had faced each other in the national tournament.

The Mavericks struck first with a goal in the 58th minute and took a 1-0 lead into halftime.

Robyn Mortensen knotted the game at one with an unassisted goal in the 66th minute.

Truman kept the pressure on but couldn't get the game winner in regulation.

UNO brought the season to a crashing halt with a goal that just hit the inside of the post three minutes into overtime for the win.

It was the Bulldogs only loss in the season.

Active players in bold.
She was the first soccer player and first Truman female student-athlete to receive the honor.
She was the first female winner of the Ken B. Jones Award. The award is given to the top male and female student-athlete regardless of sport in the conference.
She was also named the female winner of the Ken B. Jones Award.
Three-time all-region pick and first-team all-conference selection, Sonderman was a focal point of a team that outscored their opponents 45-9 in 2004, including 15 shutouts.
Sonderman finished her career ranked third all-time in assists with 24 and eighth in points and ninth in goals.
During her four years on the pitch, Sonderman helped contribute to 55 shutouts and an overall record of 71-9-5.
She has been apart of fourth straight MIAA championships and NCAA postseason appearances.
The only first-team all-American in school history, Murray repeated the honor in 2004 while leading the Bulldogs to an unbeaten regular season, sixth consecutive MIAA title and fourth straight NCAA tournament appearance.
Besides owning all of the Truman and MIAA scoring marks, she was named the female winner of the Ken B. Jones Award. The award is given to the top male and female student-athlete regardless of sport in the conference.
Sondren was also a two-time second-team academic all-American.
Lauren Davis has followed the tradition of strong goalkeeping for the Bulldogs under Coach Mike Cannon. Davis became the second Bulldog netminder to earn all-American honors in the program history after a stellar 2004 season.
Of the 22 games that played that year, Davis recorded a school and conference single-season record, 15 shutouts. She finished fourth in all of the NCAA Division II among keepers in goals against average with a 0.40. Davis allowed only nine goals in the 22 games and went six consecutive contests without allowing a tally.
She was named first-team all-conference for the second straight year and first-team all-region for the first time in leading the Bulldogs to their sixth-straight conference title and fourth straight trip to the NCAA Division II national tournament.
Emily Huyck was named an NSCAA/adidas second-team all-America in 2001 after leading the nation with an 0.38 goals against average as the Bulldogs earned their first ever home game in the NCAA Division II postseason tournament. She shut out a Truman record of 43 opponents from 1998-01.
Huyck played a little more than 5,869 minutes in goal for the ‘Dogs during her tenure, the second-most ever by a Bulldog goalkeeper. Unfortunately, she saw limited action as a freshman behind another outstanding Truman netminder, Jenny Miller.
Huyck allowed just eight goals in her final season, but limited opponents to seven goals in 1999, tying the school record set by Miller the previous season.
Huyck left her name in many places in the Truman, MIAA and NCAA record books, and shares the Division II standard for single season solo shutout percentage (0.74) after holding 14 of 19 teams scoreless in 1999.
Anna Sonderman was a steady force in the Bulldog midfield for four years and was rewarded her senior year by being named to the second-team all-America squad by the National Soccer Coaches Association of America. In 2004, Sonderman was second on the team in points with 20 on six goals and eight assists.
After missing the 2000 season with an injury, Buscher made up for lost time by helping the ‘Dogs reach the NCAA Division II postseason tournament for the second time in the University’s history, and their first-ever chance to host an NCAA game.
In 1997, the soccer team had several firsts. Not only did it advance to the playoffs for the first time in school history, but a Bulldog was named all-America for the first time.
Forward Jocelyn Parisi was named to the NSCAA/Umbrq second-team all-America list following Truman’s postseason run. She was also named NSCAA/Umbrq first-team all-Central region along with teammate Kim Mannion.
In ’97, Parisi moved forward from the midfield where she played during her freshman and sophomore seasons.
She scored 15 points on four goals and seven assists during her first two seasons. As a junior, Parisi posted career highs in every category.
She ended her career in 1998 with 76 games played, 150 shots, nine goals, 19 assists and 57 points. Her 19 career assists ties her for fifth all-time at Truman, and Parisi’s 156 shots are the fourth-highest career total by a Bulldog. Parisi is tied for second among Truman career leaders in games played and is third in points.

National Soccer Coaches Association of American

ACADEMIC ALL-AMERICAN

In 1996, Chris Zitko became the first Truman women's soccer player to be named the National Soccer Coaches Association of America all-America scholar-athlete team. Zitko, a second-team pick, was a leading defender for the 'Dogs between 1993-96.

During her junior year with 10 goals and an assist and was again named defensive MVP. Zitko, a 2-3-5 record in '96 and a top 20 finish in the nation. The defense allowed just 0.95 goals per game that year. Zitko also was a two-time member of the Mid-America Intercollegiate Athletics Association all-academic team.

In 2003, Sara Murray became the second Bulldog to receive the honor. Murray was named to the second-team after having one of the best single-seasons in school history.

Murray had a record 18 goals, 15 assists for 51 points to lead the Bulldogs to another conference title and NCAA appearance.

In 2004, Murray was named to the second-team again for Academic All-American by ESPN the Magazine/College Sports Information Directors of America. She was also a second-team all-American Scholar by the NSCAA.

The third Bulldog to earn top honors academically was Anna Sonderman in 2004. Sonderman placed on the first-team NSCAA Scholar all-American team and was only one of three non-Division I student-athletes to be on the first-team. Sonderman was the center midfielder and finished her career third on the team in assists with 24.

BULLDOGS IN THE NCAA RECORD BOOK

As a team, Truman appears in several categories in the NCAA record book.

On Oct. 15, 1989, Truman scored 51 points vs. Benedictine (Kan.) to tie for sixth all-time in DII single-game points. The 18 goals scored by the ‘Dogs in that game ties for the highmost in a game in DII, and Truman's 15 assists in that contest ties for 10th among Division II leaders.

In 1999, the Truman women finished with a 0.559 goals-against average which ties for the eighth-best in a single season, while the Bulldogs' 2001 average of 0.398 is the 14th-best in DII.

In the category of single season shutout percentage, Truman ranks tied for ninth place in mark of 0.757 in 1999 and ties for 14th at 0.714 in 2001. The 14 shutouts posted by the 1999 team ties for the ninth-most in a season by a team in Division II, while the 20 shutouts that the 2001 team posted ties for 14th all-time.

The Bulldogs' 21 consecutive conference wins from Sept. 1, 1999, to Nov. 3, 2001, ranks tied for fourth all-time in Division II, while it also ties for eighth on the consecutive conference games unbeaten list.

Truman's 10 consecutive shutouts from Sept. 25 to Oct. 28, 2000, ties for the fourth-longest streak in DII and the nine straight the ‘Dogs posted in 1999 ties for sixth.

‘Dogs led the nation with a 0.40 goals-against average in 2001. On Sept. 4, 1999, vs. Park College, Jill Benson and Carie Toczykowski scored goals 17 seconds apart to rank 12th on the DII list of fastest consecutive goals by the same team.

With a career record of 143-52-16 (.716), Mike Cannon is the winningest coach in Truman women's soccer history, and is ranked tied for 16th by percentage and 14th by victories among NCAA Division II active coaches with a minimum of five years on the job. He also comes in fourth by percentage on the list of active and inactive coaches with 10 or more years in the DII ranks, and is 15th on that list according to number of victories. Among women's soccer coaches at any NCAA level, Cannon's winning percentage ranks 32nd for those with at least 10 years in the profession.

Emily Huyck shares the NCAA Division II record for single season solo shutout percentage (.74) after holding 14 of 19 teams scoreless during the 1999 season. In 2000, she had a solo shutout percentage of 0.68 which ties for seventh among DII single season leaders, while her 2001 mark of 0.67 ties for 10th all-time.

Huyck's 14 shutouts in 1999 and 2001 rank tied for third on the Division II list of season solo shutouts. In 2000, Huyck charted 15 shutouts in 19 contests which ties for the 10th-most shutouts in a season for DII.

Also among single-season leaders, Huyck posted the 11th-best goals-against average (0.36) in 1999, allowing just seven tallies, and she tied for the 17th-best season in DII in 2001 when she led the nation with a 0.40 GAA, giving up just eight goals.

Among Division II career leaders, Huyck's 0.48 goals against average is the third-best all-time. She played 5,869:12 minutes in goal for the ‘Dogs, giving up just 31 goals from 1998-2000. Huyck ranks 19th on the list of career minutes in DII.

From Sept. 17 to Oct. 29, 2000, she played 955:21 scoreless minutes, the third longest time in NCAA Division II by a netminder without allowing a goal. Huyck also went 871:33 minutes from Oct. 9, 1999, to Sept. 2, 2000, without allowing a goal, the fifth-longest streak in DII.

Another goalkeeper, Jenny Miller, also appears among the NCAA Division II elite. Her career goals against average of 0.79 is the 19th-best in DII, while her 6,850:34 minutes played from 1995-98 is the fourth most by a Division II netminder.

Molly Swartzbaugh recorded the seventh quickest goal in NCAA Division II history on Oct. 27, 1997, when she put the ball in the net just 15 seconds into a contest with Drury University.

Interest was high when the first intercollegiate women’s soccer team took the field at Truman on Sept. 8, 1984, at Cardinal Newman College in St. Louis, but little else was known. The Bulldogs’ first head coach, Alvaro Duran, welcomed the challenge. He had a 20-player roster littered with experience with all having played in high school or on club teams.

One factor Duran faced that caused early problems was a schedule of already established teams. Regional competitors, including Missouri-St. Louis, Missouri-Bolla and Quincy (Ill.), all had two-plus years of intercollegiate experience with all having played in high school. As with most things, time brought gradual improvement, and in 1987 the Bulldogs reached the .500 mark for the first time, posting a 7-6-2 record. That same year marked another milestone for the program as freshman Shauna Putnam became the first Truman women’s soccer player to earn all-region honors. The ’87 campaign also became the cornerstone in establishing the Truman women’s soccer program as a national powerhouse.

Continuing the rise was now the goal Duran set for his team. In 1988, seven players were named to the National Soccer Coaches Association of America Division II all-region team and the squad was ranked 12th in the nation. The following season, the Bulldogs turned in their best performance to that point, finishing with an 11-5-1 record and 15th in the national rankings. It would be the last winning campaign at Truman for Duran who left at the conclusion of the 1990 season.

Stephanie Gabbert became the team’s second coach in 1991. Her stint would only last two years before she took an assistant coaching job at the University of Wisconsin. Both of her seasons ended with disappointment when the ‘Dogs did not achieve a .500 mark.

Current head coach Mike Cannon took the reins in 1993, posting the fourth consecutive sub-.500 season in his first year. His second year saw fortunes change as he coached the Bulldogs to within one victory of making the ’94 NCAA DII tournament. In only two seasons, Cannon established the ‘Dogs as a national contender. He followed the ’94 accomplishments with another record-breaking season, going 12-4-1 overall in 1995. A year later, the Bulldogs would rise as high as fourth in the national rankings and go 12-3-5, again missing the tournament by a single match.

Truman’s postseason drought would end in ’97 with its first trip to the NCAA tournament. It would be four years before Cannon’s team would reach the NCAA tournament again. In 2001, the Bulldogs shutout 15 foes en route to their No. 1 ranking in the Central region. The ‘Dogs garnered a first round bye in the NCAA tournament that year, as well as a pair of home games. The 2002 squad also made the postseason and won its first round game before a second-round encounter at Nebraska-Omaha ended another NCAA title run. The 2003 team had the single greatest regular season in school history with a 18-1-1 mark, winning their fifth consecutive MIAA championship. The Bulldogs once again earned a invitation to the NCAA Tournament but the titles hopes again were spoiled by Nebraska-Omaha 3-1.

Although, Truman’s rise to national prominence has had its peaks and valleys, the Bulldogs are poised to stay among the top soccer schools in Division II and possibly achieve the ultimate goal of a national championship in the near future.

Prior to 2001, the Bulldog women’s soccer team had already established a tradition of being a strong NCAA Division II soccer program. The team had won 141 games with a .542 win percentage, making one NCAA post-season appearance and claiming the MIAA first two conference championships.

Five players, two defenders, one midfielder and two forwards, have established Truman as the premier women’s soccer program in the nation. In their time in the Bulldog uniform, the group led the team to a 71-9-4 record, for an .809 win percentage. In addition, the Bulldogs qualified for the NCAA tournament each year, hosting it twice and picked up four more MIAA trophies.

Compared to the top school’s within Division II, the Bulldogs rank behind only Franklin Pierce (N.H.) in win percentage over the past four seasons.

Statistically, the group has combined for 129 goals, 92 assists for 348 points. On the defensive side of the ball, Truman in the last four years has allowed 45 goals in 84 games with 55 shutouts. It took the first 12 years of the program to record 55 shutout in which this group has done in just four.

Between the five they have received three all-American selections, six all-region picks and were named to the all-conference list 17 times.

Over the past 92 years, the MIAA has gained the reputation of being one of the top NCAA Division II conferences in the nation. MIAA student-athletes have won 13 NCAA team championships, and, since 1964, 141 individual national titles. The MIAA currently conducts championships in seven sports for men and seven for women.

For the men, champions are crowned in football, cross country, basketball, indoor and outdoor track & field, baseball, tennis and golf. The women compete for titles in volleyball, cross country, soccer, basketball, indoor and outdoor track & field, softball and tennis.

The MIAA turned a new page on July 1, 1992, when the NCAA Division II conference changed its name from the Missouri Intercollegiate Athletic Association to the Mid-America Intercollegiate Athletics Association.

The decision to make the change originated in 1989, when Pittsburg State University and Washburn University became the first schools outside the state of Missouri to gain membership in the MIAA.

The conference was first organized in 1912 with 14 member institutions. Of those original members, Central Missouri State University, Truman State University, and Northwest Missouri State University are the only original schools still members.

The first change in membership came in 1924, when the MIAA reorganized to include only the five regional Missouri state colleges: Central, Truman (at the time known as Northeast Missouri State), Northwest, Southeast Missouri State University and Southwest Missouri State University. Over the next 56 years, three schools joined the membership: the Missouri School of Mines (now University of Missouri-Rolla) in 1935, Lincoln University in 1970, and the University of Missouri-St. Louis in 1980.

The 1980s brought the biggest changes in the conference. In 1981, Southwest Missouri State University opted to move to NCAA Division I and the MIAA appointed its first full-time commissioner, Ken Jones, in July. He would be in the position for 16 years, retiring in 1997.

Former Gulf South and Metro conference commissioner Ralph McFillen succeeded Jones.

Southwest Baptist University brought membership back to eight schools in 1986, before the major expansion of the conference in 1989. Pittsburg State, Washburn, Missouri Southern and Missouri Western — formerly members of the Central States Intercollegiate Conference — began competition in the 1989-90 season.

Southeast Missouri State left the MIAA following the 1990-91 season to move on to NCAA Division I, and was replaced by Emporia State University in the 1991-92 season.

In August 1991, Judy Wilson was hired as the MIAA’s first full-time sports information director. She left in 1994, and was succeeded by Matt Newbery, formerly the assistant sports information director at Pittsburg State. He became the assistant to the commissioner for media relations in 2005.

A third full-time staff member was added in 2005, as former Emporia State track athlete Natasha Oakes was hired as the assistant to the commissioner for compliance.

The membership of the MIAA is now at nine schools, with the departure of Missouri-St. Louis in 1996 and Missouri-Rolla in 2005 and the forfeiture of membership by Lincoln in 1999. It returns to 10 members in 2006-07 with the addition of Fort Hays (Kan.) State University.

Missouri to gain membership in the MIAA.

Central Missouri State University, Truman State University, and Northwest Missouri State University became the first schools outside the state of Missouri to gain membership in the MIAA.

The conference was first organized in 1912 with 14 member institutions. Of those original members, Central Missouri State University, Truman State University, and Northwest Missouri State University are the only original schools still members.

The first change in membership came in 1924, when the MIAA reorganized to include only the five regional Missouri state colleges: Central, Truman (at the time known as Northeast Missouri State), Northwest, Southeast Missouri State University and Southwest Missouri State University. Over the next 56 years, three schools joined the membership: the Missouri School of Mines (now University of Missouri-Rolla) in 1935, Lincoln University in 1970, and the University of Missouri-St. Louis in 1980.

The 1980s brought the biggest changes in the conference. In 1981, Southwest Missouri State University opted to move to NCAA Division I and the MIAA appointed its first full-time commissioner, Ken Jones, in July. He would be in the position for 16 years, retiring in 1997.

Former Gulf South and Metro conference commissioner Ralph McFillen succeeded Jones.

TRUMAN ATHLETICS HALL OF FAME
KATHY (CORSON) FULLER (2004)

Fuller was the Bulldogs leading scorer in each of her four seasons at Truman. She is second in career goals scored with 48. Until the 2005 season, Fuller was also the team career leader in points with 115.

During her freshman season, Fuller made an immediate impact scoring 16 goals (then a team-record) and 10 assists. She continued to lead the team with nine goals in 1999, eight in 1991 and finishing with 15 in 1992.

Besides being second in career goals and second in career points, Fuller is ranked sixth in career assists (19) and third in career shots (190).

Fuller was selected to the National Soccer Coaches Association of America all-region first-team in 1991 & 1992 and garnered second-team all-region honors in 1989 & 1990.

Fuller was also the team career leader in points with 115.

Fuller came to Truman from West Chester, Ohio and Lakota High School. She was coached by Alvaro Duran (1989-90) and Stephanie Gabbert (1991-92).

2005 MIAA COMMISSIONER'S ACADEMIC HONOR ROLL

Truman had 15 members on the honor roll, 25% of all MIAA women's soccer players named and the most of the eight schools that sponsored the sport last season.

KEN B. JONES AWARD

SARA MURRAY (2004)

The Mid-America Intercollegiate Athletics Associations top honor bestowed on a student-athlete was awarded to Truman women's soccer player senior Sara Murray at the conference's annual awards banquet in Kansas City in 2004. Murray was named the women's recipient of the Ken B. Jones Award, the first Truman student-athlete to win the award since 1999-2000 and the first women student-athlete from Truman, in the 12 year history of the award.

Murray was not only the first Truman female to win the award, but the first soccer player in the league's history to be awarded the top prize. Murray holds all of the Truman and MIAA career scoring marks along with being named first-team all-conference four straight years and a two-time first-team All-American.

In addition to her on-field accomplishments, Murray was an ESPN the Magazine Academic All-American and was awarded an NCAA Postgraduate scholarship. She is a three-time member of the MIAA Commissioner's Academic Honor Roll and received the Dean's Award for Excellence at Truman in May.

She was named conference freshman of the year in 2001 and the most valuable player in 2003. This season, she was part of a Bulldog squad that was undefeated in the regular season going 18-0-2. The team claimed their sixth-straight MIAA title, the only conference school to ever win the conference championship and fourth-straight trip to the NCAA Division II national tournament.

Clint Prange, a senior track and field athlete from Northwest Missouri State and locally, North Shelby High School, was the men's recipient of the Ken B. Jones award.

The Ken B. Jones Award has been given annually since the 1993-94 season recognizing the top junior or senior student-athlete in the conference based on athletic accomplishments, academic accomplishments and community service. The award is named for the conference's first full-time commissioner, who retired in 1997 and passed away last May. An 11-member panel, represented by each conference school, selects the one male and one female student-athlete.
