2007 Recap

After not winning the MIAA conference title for the first time in eight seasons, the 2007 Bulldog squad rebounded nicely - taking both the regular season and conference tournament titles en route to an NCAA tournament berth.

The Bulldogs wrapped up a five-game nonconference slate with a key 2-1 win against Nebraska-Omaha on Sept. 8 to propel them into MIAA play.

After splitting two matches in the conference’s opening weekend, Truman rattled off a seven-game unbeaten streak (6-0-1) to carry a lead in the standings with only five games to play.

A road loss at Washburn allowed the Lady Blues and Central Missouri to draw even, but three straight wins gave Truman a three-point lead over Central Missouri heading into the MIAA season’s final game at UCM.

After battling to a scoreless draw through 90 minutes, UCM got a golden goal in the 95th minute to win 1-0 and share the regular season title.

Truman took the #2 seed into the following week’s inaugural MIAA tournament and won two 1-0 contests - including an 87th minute goal in the championship - to secure the conference’s automatic bid to the NCAA tournament.

There, the Bulldogs squared off once again with a familiar rival - the Mavericks of Neb.-Omaha - and could never get going in a 3-0 loss.

Truman doubled their opponents in goals scored (39-19) in 2007 and were balanced offensively as seven different players tallied multiple goals. Senior Emily Roark started all 23 games in goal - a school record - and allowed just a 0.85 GAA.

2008 Preview

Head coach Mike Cannon finds his team returning eight starters from last season’s squad, including six of the top seven scorers.

“We’re not returning a 15 or 20 goal scorer, but we didn’t lose anyone that scored a bunch for us either, so it’s both a positive and a negative,” Cannon said.

A trio of juniors - Katie Reuck, Jessica Wiegert and Isabel Gaeta - each scored a team-high seven goals last season and will each look to improve upon that number even more in 2008.

“Jessica and Isabel will have some good help this year up front both from other forwards as well as our midfield,” Cannon said. “Katie was a great addition for us last year because we haven’t had that kind of offensive production out of the midfield for a couple of years.”

Also returning are three senior midfielders looking for their third conference title in four seasons.

“Katie [Buning], Katelyn [Talcott] and Brigitte [Pohren] have been in the system now for multiple years and have seen what it takes to win in our conference,” Cannon said. “We don’t have a lot of seniors this year, but the ones we have are very capable of leading this team.”

Defensively, the Bulldogs also return senior all-region selection Kim Wolff, who will help anchor a Truman defense that surrendered just 19 goals last season.

“Kim and [junior] Kelsey [Richters] will definitely be back there this fall because they have gotten a lot of experience,” Cannon said. “Right now, the third defender would be Theresa [Bauler], but someone else might step up and allow us to move [Theresa] back into the midfield.”

In goal, the Bulldogs lose 2007 starter Emily Roark, but Cannon brought in a pair of freshman to join junior Denise Childress and help fill the gap.

“Denise is our starter going into pre-season, and even though she hasn’t gotten a ton of experience in games, she had a terrific spring,” Cannon said. “Jayne [Grisham] and Alison [Taylor] are really talented coming in as freshmen also, so hopefully they will push Denise and provide some competition at that position this fall.”

Schedule

With the addition of Nebraska-Omaha to the MIAA this season, Truman will play just four nonconference games (as opposed to five in 2007) and will remain the only MIAA tournament champions as the conference eliminated the four-team event after just one season.

The Bulldogs will travel to Warrensburg the opening weekend to face a pair of teams - Quincy (Ill.) and Midwestern (Texas) State - that sported winning records in 2007 before heading to Edmond, Okla., for matches against Central Oklahoma, an NCAA tournament participant last year, and Southwestern Oklahoma State.

A pair of home matches kick off the conference schedule the weekend of Sept. 11-13 and will include a showdown with UNO.

The squad will then have a chance to make a statement over the next four weeks as Truman will play eight of nine matches on the road from Sept. 18-Oct. 16.

From there though, the purple and white will be rewarded for their tough slate by ending the season with five straight matches at home before the NCAA tournament starts in mid-November.
