This Week:
November means crunch time for the Truman women’s soccer team and only one conference game remains before the team gets ready for postseason play.

About the Lady Hornets:
The Emporia State Lady Hornets (4-13-1, 2-11-1 MIAA) will wrap up the regular season this week after dropping their latest tussle with Washburn on Saturday, 2-1.

Emporia has had trouble finding the back of the net, posting just 12 goals this season and sporting a -21 goal differential. Top scorer Alicia Smith has four goals, followed by Alison Germany with three, and Germany also leads the team with three assists.

Between the pipes, keeper Jennifer Stillmock has started 14 games for the Hornets, averaging 1.81 goals-against and chalking up 132 saves.

Bulldog Review:
Although Truman won’t be conference champions this season, the Bulldogs derailed Central Missouri’s 13-game win streak last Saturday at home, playing the Jennies to a 2-2 tie. Katelyn Talcott and Riley Mahn scored in the draw, and Mahn is tied for second on the team with eight goals, behind Jessica Wiegert with nine.

After a strong sophomore campaign, Wiegert is having an even better junior year, and she received Player of the Week honors from the MIAA last week for her efforts against UNO and Missouri Southern. She also picked up academic all-district recognition from the College Sports Information Directors of America last week due to her strong performance in the classroom.

She also picked up academic all-district recognition from the College Sports Information Directors of America last week due to her strong performance in the classroom.

But it’s been a total team effort for Truman this season, as the team is outscoring opponents 38 to 16, with nine different players tallying goals. The defensive line has only given up five goals in the last six contests, and keeper Denise Childress has five shutouts and 54 saves to her credit.

In the most recent South Central regional rankings, Truman is ranked second, right behind UCM and one spot ahead of Washburn.
